Brand Story

As early as 1986, it was still a handmade leather shoe store. In the process of long-term dealings with local farmers and miners, the founder learned how much they desired a pair of durable and comfortable shoes, and discovered that in the market, lumberjacks, farmers, and miners There is an increasing demand for quality personal protective footwear. Such shoes can not only protect the feet, but also keep the feet dry and comfortable, so that they can work energetically throughout the day.

In the remote land of Australia, humans and wild animals live in harmony, and wild animals often enter the factory to "visit". Among them is a rooster native to Tasmania. Their strong and sturdy claws grip the ground and can climb up cliffs like climbing stairs. The perseverance of this rooster caught our eyes, and the image of our brand stood out in front of our eyes and deeply rooted in our hearts.

In the 1990s, ROCKROOSTER began to expand vigorously in the local area, relying on its grasp of local high-quality leather supply sources and exquisite craftsmanship. And gradually established a connection with this rapidly developing world. As our international business developed, we quickly became a contract manufacturer for big-name Australian and domestic brands. As the technology continues to mature and we grow, we have the idea of having our own brand. Through this brand, we want to show the world our values, ideas and passion for footwear. That day, ROCKROOSTER was born.

Today, ROCKROOSTER is sold in 37 different countries on five continents. Now there are 6 series of different styles of work boots and outdoor hiking boots. We have gone beyond making durable, sturdy leather shoes in the traditional sense. We want to focus more on fashion, durability, comfort and anti-acne.
